CORSET STAY SAVES A LIFE

Diverted Course of Deadly Bullet.

HUSBAND DRAWS PISTOL

And Fires Twice Point Blank at his Wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Filbert Boice Quarrel as They Divide Property—Boice Now in Prison.

Only the resisting power of a corset stay which diverted the course of a bullet traveling toward the heart of Mrs. Eva Boice, prevented her husband, Filbert Boice, from being successful in an attempt to take her life at their home on Waterloo street, about three o'clock Monday afternoon, following a quarrel.

Boice became enraged in a dispute following an attempt to divide their household goods, and drawing a revolver, fired at his wife, the shot going wide of the mark. His next shot struck a corset stay and was deflected, and passed sideways through the clothing of the woman but did not enter her flesh.

As he fired the second shot, Mrs. Higgins, a sister of Mrs. Boice, who was there to look out for her sister's interests, grappled with Boice and succeeded in getting hold on the revolver so that he could not fire again. The assistance of William Derringer, a neighbor, was summoned and Boice was prevented from doing further damage. He was taken to the city prison by an officer.

Mrs. Boice commenced suit for alimony in the common pleas court some time ago. H. B. Hill has acted as counsel for Mrs. Boice and F. E. Guthery for Filbert Boice. Monday morning the parties, together with their attorneys, had a meeting at which division of the household goods at the Waterloo street house was agreed upon and it was supposed that everything would be settled in a manner satisfactory to all.

By agreement Boice and his wife met at the house at three o'clock Monday afternoon. Boice was accompanied by three women who were to act as witnesses for him. Mrs. Boice brought her sister, Mrs. Higgins. A dispute arose concerning a number of articles that were said to have been missing and each party to the division claimed that the other had taken them. Boice, it is alleged, became enraged and tried to shoot his wife. By the time Boice was taken into custody, a large crowd of neighbors had gathered at the house.

Friends of Boice state that they believe he was temporarily insane at the time of the shooting and that when he pulled the gun and shot at his wife he fully intended to kill her and then to take his own life. They say that he is of a very nervous temperament and when opposed in anything he becomes almost wild with rage.

Boice, in his cell at the city prison, is reading a man's newspaper over his shoulder to have him turn the page before you get to the end of the story.—Detroit Free Press.

RECORD ESTABLISHED

Potatoes are Raised From Seed Grown This Year.

Mr. H. Hoyle of East Church street has established a potato crop raising record that probably was never equaled in this or any other section of the country. He has just harvested a crop of potatoes produced from seed that was grown during the present year. Some say such a thing would be impossible.

The first of the year Mr. Hoyle went to Europe. While there in March he purchased two pounds of seed potatoes that had just been harvested in the Canary Islands. Coming home he planted these "taters" and raised a nice crop in his garden at his residence.

TELEPHONE COMPANIES

Will Battle in the Local Courts.

IMPORTANT PAPERS FILED

By Attorneys for the United States Company.

It Demands an Inspection of the Documents Relating to the Alleged Merger of Local Companies.

Important papers were filed in the court of common pleas Tuesday morning in the case of the United States Telephone company against the Marion County Telephone company, a suit growing out of the Marion and Central Union companies' transactions. The case was started several weeks ago.

The papers filed consist of the plaintiff's answer to the cross petition of the defendant, a motion by the plaintiff to have dissolved the temporary injunction restraining the United States company from molesting the service of the Marion County company, and a demand that the Marion County company produce papers relating to its contract with the Central Union.

The United States company is represented by its Columbus attorney, Cyrus Hulme, and its local attorney Charles L. Justice.

In its demand for an inspection of the documents relating to the alleged merger of the Marion County and Central Union company's interests, the United States company states, "Your compliance with the terms of this demand within four days from the service of notice will prevent an application on the part of the plaintiff in the court for an order to require the production of such documents for inspection and copy as provided by law."

In answer to the cross petition of the defendant the United States company admits that the Marion County Telephone company is operating an exchange in Marion county, but has no knowledge of the number of its patrons.

The United States company declares that the Marion County and Central Union companies, the latter a branch of the Bell company, entered into their contract in October, 1907, in order to eliminate competition in Marion county.

In 1908 and 1909 the Marion County company installed its exchange and used the long distance service of the United States company. As a result of the contract entered into in October, the Marion County company attempted to turn over its long distance service to the Central Union. It is charged that the Central Union did everything possible to injure the business of the United States company by delaying and diverting messages.

The United States company states that finally, on October 19, in order to protect its interests and to prevent the Central Union from injuring its business, it cut the United States company's long distance wires leading into the Central Union exchange. The following day the Marion County company without authority attempted to again connect the wires to the Central Union exchange. The United States company immediately disconnected the wires and has since refused to furnish service. It prays that the petition originally filed be granted.

The United States company also filed notice that November 16 at 10 a. m. its motion to dissolve the temporary injunction granted to the Marion County company will be heard. Local attorneys are of the opinion that this litigation will result in a long legal fight.
